Contained within the sleeve is a hardcover book containing art by Dante Pollari, the English and Italian versions of the manual.1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a method for manufacturing an electronic part that includes a ceramic electronic component having at least one of a plurality of electrodes formed on a ceramic base, an electrode layer for providing electrical connection between the plurality of electrodes and an external electrode formed on the electrode layer, and a printed wiring board that includes an electrode for providing electrical connection between the plurality of electrodes and a plurality of conductor pads. 2. Description of Related Art Ceramic electronic components such as a ceramic capacitor have widely been used as electronic parts for mounting on printed wiring boards. The ceramic electronic components are advantageous in that they are lightweight, have a large capacity, and have a small size. To mount a ceramic electronic component on a printed wiring board, for example, an electrode layer for providing electrical connection between a plurality of electrodes and an electrode of the printed wiring board is provided, and the electrode layer is electrically connected to the plurality of electrodes of the ceramic electronic component. At this time, the ceramic electronic component or the ceramic electronic component and the printed wiring board are compressed at their boundary. Then, the electrode layer is electrically connected to the electrode of the printed wiring board by means of the electrode of the printed wiring board, so that the ceramic electronic component is electrically connected to the printed wiring board. To mount a ceramic electronic component on a printed wiring board, as described above, the ceramic electronic component and the printed wiring board are compressed at the boundary of the ceramic electronic component and the printed wiring board. However, the electrode layer is fixed to the ceramic electronic component. Accordingly, when the ceramic electronic component is fixed by a press machine, the ceramic electronic component is bent upward. Therefore, it is not possible to connect the electrode layer to the electrode of the printed wiring board with the electrode of the printed wiring board in a parallel state. As a result, it is not possible to obtain a ceramic electronic component having stable electrical connection and having stable electrical properties. Thus, for example, Patent Document 1 (Japanese Unexamined Patent Application Publication No. 2013-136833) has disclosed a method for manufacturing an electronic part in which, when a ceramic electronic component is manufactured, a bump is formed on each electrode of the ceramic
