Field of the Invention This invention relates to coaxial tube heat exchangers, and to a method and apparatus for making such a heat exchanger. In particular, this invention relates to a method and apparatus for making a coaxial tube heat exchanger in which the tubes and fins have precisely controlled dimensions. This invention also relates to a method and apparatus for making such a heat exchanger in which the internal spacing between a plurality of channels through which a fluid flows is directly controlled by an adjustable component of the apparatus. 2. Description of the Prior Art FIG. 1 illustrates a typical prior art coaxial tube heat exchanger. A group of closely spaced tubes 10 is mounted in a support frame 20. The space between the tubes 10 is filled with fins 30. The fins 30 are shown spaced evenly around the heat exchanger. The support frame e79caf774b
