in visual studio 2019 version 18.3, we added the ability for you to integrate third party testing tools into your deployments via a nuget package. for more information, see <https://devblogs.microsoft.com/devops/nuget-packages-for-deploying-unit-and-integration-tests-with-visual-studio/> this update for microsoft visual c++ 2011 redistributable package is released as a download-only update and isnt distributed through windows update. redistribution of this update is allowed, subject to the same license terms as granted by the microsoft visual studio 2011 runtime. for more information, see the following microsoft knowledge base article: in visual studio 2019 version 19.2, we updated the file update manifest to make it slightly easier to download the visual studio installer package from visual studio online. if you install a new visual studio update on windows that has an update available, the file update manifest is updated to be more consistent with the previous behavior. in addition to enabling update on close and updating instances of visual studio to the developer preview release, visual studio 2019 version 16.9 includes a new get older updates feature. when you use this feature, the update control panel shows the version of visual studio that you have installed, and it suggests versions to update to. a menu offers you to update only to the oldest and newest available versions. you can update your instances of visual studio to the new visual studio version from an msi package that you can download from <https://visualstudio.microsoft.com/downloads/all/> . unlike the update features that appear at the visual studio downloads page, the update can be customized for you using a text file that you can obtain either manually or from a download link at the bottom of the screen when you click the update button on the visual studio launcher. to download and customize the update for your visual studio, either follow the instructions on the visual studio documentation that describes how to customize the update, or get the custom update file at <https://visualstudio.com/downloads/customization/> .

When you have enabled Update on Close, Visual Studio will first check for updates. The update notification message box will appear and you can select the Update on Close in the notification hub or hit the Update on Close button to defer the update until you voluntarily close Visual Studio. Visual Studio starts checking for updates when it is first opened. If you have enabled the Update on Close for any update, Visual Studio will also defer the update until you voluntarily close Visual Studio. When you choose the Update on Close option or click the Update on Close button, the current update will be saved for later. When the next reboot occurs, Visual Studio will attempt to download the update. If you disable the Update on Close, you can defer the update until you voluntarily close Visual Studio. When you choose the Update on Close option or click the Update on Close button, the current update will be saved for later. When the next reboot occurs, Visual Studio will attempt to download the update. When you have enabled Update on Close, Visual Studio will automatically unlock the IDE for you. This setting persists after you close Visual Studio, which is to say that it can be enabled before you start Visual Studio but will also work after you close Visual Studio. The Visual Studio Enterprise Management Portal currently supports only a single component, Visual Studio, and only supports updates for Visual Studio Enterprise 2019. As of this writing, the Visual Studio 2019 update is an in-place update. However, in the future, the Visual Studio update updates to Visual Studio Enterprise may be packaged as a cumulative update. 5ec8ef588b
