The name auf Deutsch aufwerten BMW was adapted in the mid-1980s in order to distinguish this class of cars from the BMW 3 Series and BMW 5 Series. Mercedes-Benz was also joined this classification as late as the mid-1990s, when the class 10. name was introduced in order to distinguish it from Mercedes-Benz models and the S-class used for this purpose. This is the classification plan that Mercedes-Benz uses in marketing its new models. The current classification of cars was developed in the mid-1990s. Each class (German Klasse) designates the body type and market segment, for example: SL Sport Leicht (sporty, light roadster); CLK Comfort-Leicht-Kurz (comfortable, light, shortened a coupe of medium size); G Gelndewagen (SUV) and the like. In 2015, the names of some classes were revised. So, for example, the M-class was called the GLE-class, and the GL-class was called the GLS-class.
